

Weekly Report 2 - SVM

Ganji Varshitha
AI20BTECH11009

---

Introduction

SVM is a supervised learning model used for both classification and regression. It creates decision boundary which divides the training data into classes, hence making it a discriminative classifier. It is non parametric as it does not take any information from the training data.